

The culmination of a vision from award-winning builder Geoffrey Kuck, architect Paul Davey, interior designer Martha Vicas and landscape designer Caroline Ercin, this inviting, light-filled residence is a destination unto itself.

Geoff Kuck of FWI Custom Homes has 25 years of experience providing highly-managed builder-client relationships and has celebrated multiple award-winning projects.

FWI Custom Homes is committed to maintaining the highest quality and standards. As a high-end custom Home Builder, General Contractor and Renovation Specialist serving Washington DC, Montgomery County and Northern VA, Geoff Kuck has a dedicated team who have established an advanced criteria and skillset for highly-managed projects including professional and detailed communication.

Discerning homeowners, interior designers, and architects have come to rely on FWI Custom Homes' distinctive building quality and years of experience. FWI clients become part of a larger family catered to for future customer service.

2860 University Terrace, one of Geoff's most recent projects, is located in the heart of Kent—a desirable D.C. neighborhood that's walkable to local parks, fantastic shopping, and wonderful restaurants. This beautifully designed property features extensive natural stone and hardwoods, custom millwork and moldings, modern technology, and a seamless, open floor plan.

Interior designer Martha Vicas of M.S. Vicas Interiors designed and curated the interiors of this property, to create a perfect blend of modern and traditional furnishings.

Martha embraces a variety of projects and budgets and serves the needs of each client with her passion for timeless, comfortable homes that improve with age. A fresh, innovative approach to color and form is a trademark of her work. Her goal is to create timeless, elegant, and eminently livable interiors that enhance the way a client experiences their home.

In this light-filled residence, a mahogany front door opens to a refined interior with designer-curated finishes and fixtures, including a chef's kitchen that showcases the latest technology and style.

A luxurious master suite make the home a comfortable retreat with radiant heated floors in four bathrooms and the lower level entry. Custom finished white oak floors throughout -- and -- ten-foot ceilings, a gas fireplace with a marble surround, and a butler's pantry and wine fridge create a main level that is perfect for formal gatherings.

The finished lower level includes a wet bar and a guest suite, along with flexible space to create a home gym, media room, or playroom. This residence offers something for everyone and can accommodate any lifestyle.

Multiple options for a private home office with sun-filled windows, off-street parking, and two-car garage. An optional elevator, wine room, and generator add versatility to the floor plan.
